Lean Six Sigma Online Programme

Yellow and Green Belt Certification

7 online training days over 7 weeks
Start date: 14 April 2020

Lean Six Sigma is a recognized methodology and has been widely used across industries since 1986. Proven savings and added value for the customer make it an obvious tool for the upcoming COVID-19 business challenges. Tough times might speed up the need of companies to be looking for optimization. That's why we believe the demand for Lean Six Sigma certified staff will grow significantly in the near future. Find out more here.
